The Pinios Delta

Mount Pindos

The sources near Meteora

The Tempi valley

The source of the river is the Mount Pindos which lies west of Thessaly in Epirus.

It flows only through our region, Thessaly across the towns of Trikala and Larissa. It has 5 tributaries. The route of the river is magnificent at some points: in the rocky mountains of Meteora; in the valley of Tempi where it flows between Mount Olympus and Mount Ossa before it forms its delta.

It has got many fish though it is quite polluted: trout, catfish, carb, and eel.

Pinios ends its flow into the Aegean Sea. Its delta is the widest point.

The delta of Pinios is a wetland famous for its biodiversity. It has 225 bird species which are rare or endangered, such as flamingos, swans, ergets and cormorants.

Rafting and canoeing are very popular hobbies

There are also floods of the river spread the ris all over the campus
